

US Department of Health and Human Services

Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management, 200 Independence Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201

Biography

JOSEPH TERRA, MS, CIH

Captain (CAPT) Joseph Terra is the Acting Director of Environmental Health Services Division (EHSD) for Federal Occupational Health (FOH), Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management (ASAM), U. S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

In addition to his role as the EHSD Acting Director, CAPT Terra also serves as the FOH National Emergency Response Team Director and is responsible for the coordination and oversight of FOH's integrated services disaster response related activities.

CAPT Terra has over twenty years of Federal experience as an Occupational and Environmental Health Officer both with the U.S. Public Health Service and the U.S. Army. Prior experience includes assignments with the Division of Safety, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, MD, and the U.S. Army Biomedical Research and Development Laboratory, Fort Detrick, in Frederick, MD.

CAPT Terra received his undergraduate degree in biology from the University of New England in Biddeford, Maine, and his Master of Science degree in biology from the University of Rhode Island in North Kingstown, Rhode Island. CAPT Terra has been board certified in the comprehensive practice of industrial hygiene by the American Board of Industrial Hygiene (ABIH) since 1996.

CAPT Terra is the recipient of the U.S. Public Health Service Field Medical Readiness Badge, the U.S. Army Meritorious Service Medal, the U.S. Public Health Service Commendation Medal, the U.S. Army Commendation and Achievement Medals, the U.S. Public Health Service Crisis Response Service Award, the Department of Health and Human Services Secretary's Award for Distinguished Service, and numerous unit citations.